A la Ronde: National Trust Guidebook (National Trust Guidebooks) By Hugh Meller

This unique 16-sided house, described by Lucinda Lambton as having "a magical strangeness that one might dream of only as a child", was built for two spinster cousins, Jane and Mary Parminter, on their return from a grand tour of Europe in the late 18th century. It contains many objects and mementos of their travels. The extraordinary interior decoration includes a feature frieze and a fragile shell-encrusted gallery, said to contain nearly 25,000 shells, which can be viewed in its entirety on closed-circuit television.
