Convenient Fall (Players of Marycliff University) (Volume 2) By Jerica MacMillan

A roommates-to-lovers romance with a hot-as-sin college football player trying to go pro and a party-girl artist who's a walking contradiction.

"Jerica has impressed me with her writing of steamy New Adult reads and has me hanging on for more of her amazing stories and intriguing characters." ~ Catherine of Rochelle's Reviews

"I really enjoyed reading this book because of Jerica MacMillan's writing style and her way of always mixing sweet and tender scenes with steamier sex scenes." ~ Goodreads reviewer

"WOW! You can't help but love this college series. This book has great friends, brotherly love, flirting and emotions that keeps you turning the page for more." ~ Amazon reviewer

Megan Davidson is scrambling to find a new place after Abby, her roommate and best friend, decides to move in with her boyfriend Lance. With just a week until classes start, the open spot left in Lance's old house looks like her best option. She moves in with Matt and Chris, hot football players who are shameless flirts and notorious players.

Chris Watkins is playing his final season of college football before life as he knows it is over. He'd dreamed of going pro, but the NFL never scouted him and now he's in self-destruct mode--not bothering to go to classes or even try to graduate. With everything falling apart, he can't even lose himself in the jersey chasers that are always hanging around. Megan caught his attention over the summer, and with her constantly under his nose, he can't get her out of his head.

Sparks fly when these two finally give in to their attraction. Will these roommates turned lovers manage to keep things light and easy like they planned?

Or will their flame burn hotter than anyone is ready for?

If you love steamy college romance full of hot athletes, fiery heroines, and chemistry that melts the pages, get Convenient Fall now!

Q&A with Jerica MacMillan

Q: What's special about the Players of Marycliff University series?

A: When I wrote these, I wanted them to be highly relatable. Yes, the guys are all hot college football players, but they have normal struggles with balancing school, family, and career goals with their personal relationships. Since it's college romance, there's a big emphasis on figuring out what you want out of life, but I think that's a theme that resonates long past college age.

I do consider them a sports romance, but the football isn't really the focus of the stories. The focus is on the characters and their relationships.

Q: What is the best order to read the books?

They're all interconnected standalones, so it's not completely necessary to read them in order, though I think it provides the best experience if you do. They were written and published in the following order for the main, full-length novels:

Summer Fling
Convenient Fall
Managed Hearts
Unsaid Things
Coping Skills
False Assumptions

Opening Hearts doesn't fit in the timeline of the main novels, but is the story of how Matt and Hannah met, who have their story in Managed Hearts. I recommend reading it right before Managed Hearts, but it can be enjoyed equally at any point along the way.

Q: Why should readers give these books a try?

Because they're awesome! ?

In all seriousness, if you like steamy college romance with just the right amount of angst, then these books are perfect for you. The heroes are all hot college football players, and the heroines are spunky, sassy, and not afraid to stand up for themselves. They're your new best friends just waiting for you to come and hang out!
