Editorial Review

From the Author

Everything you want out of life... is along your assigned path; walk where you belong.

From the Inside Flap

The feeling to quit, to stop, to give up is one that is natural. But may I suggest to you, that often the moment when we want to quit, to give up or to settle, are often the times when we are just short of breakthrough.

In your relationship, the next level of understanding and communication is often on the other side of confusion, hurt and discomfort.

In business, the next phase of growth is after you've reached the point of feeling like you can't do anymore.

In faith, the next level is often when you reach the point where nothing makes sense, you have no more ideas, and you are at a point where you don't know what to do.

What I am trying to get you to see is, that the points where we want to quit, when we feel it's over... Are the very moments where we can expect God's help.

If you are feeling, like you can't

Let me remind you that- you can.

You can start again.

You can do it again.

Seek God- and start again. ?#?againinfaith?

I believe for you!
